Each year the Department receives gifts from its alumni and friends, gifts, usually in the form of financial contributions, of immense value to us. These gifts permit us to carry on activities that are of importance to our students and to our scholarly work. For instance, they provide money for scholarships, fellowships, and prizes for our students, undergraduate and graduate both. They support visits to our Department by distinguished mathematicians from other institutions, both American and foreign. They give the Department a much-needed element of flexibility to meet special needs as they arise. For these contributions we are truly thankful. We hope to continue enjoying the support of our many alumni and friends. If you are thinking of making a gift to the Department or, perhaps, remembering the Department in your will, we invite you to discuss the matter with Professor Ron Irving, the chair of the Department (206-543-1151 or chair@math.washington.edu) or with Dondi Cupp of the Development Office in the College of Arts and Sciences (206-685-6736, dcupp@u.washington.edu.)

Attention Husky Fans!

Did You Know That You Can Now Earn Tye Points by Contributing to the Mathematics Department?

Tye program members supporting the University at the President's Club level ($2,000 and above) and who currently qualify for priority seating in Husky Stadium (Tye seats) and the Bank of America Arena at Hec-Edmundson Pavilion (Key 100 and Fast Break seats) can receive one (1) Tye point for every $100 given to academic programs within the University. For details regarding Tye points go to the Husky homepage www.gohuskies.com —navigate the site by clicking on Departments, then The Tye Program, and finally Priority Seating Opportunities.
